NO DECISION HERE ON ARBUCKLE FILMS

No definite information as to whether the local theatre is to join with the many other motion picture houses thruout the country which have decided to ban "Fatty" Arbuckle films following the reported drinking bout in Los Angeles, Calif., last week, during which Miss Virginia Rappe, a screen star, is said to have received such serious injuries from an alleged attack by the famous comedian that she died the latter part of the week, could be obtained today. Arbuckle produces his pictures under the Paramount standard and only a few theatres have been in the custom of showing his releases. For the past season the local theatre has been making a feature of the Arbuckle scenarios. The manager of the Belmar theatre which have been showing Arbuckle films at various times, could not be reached, it stated that he is in Manasquan.

BELMAR TEAM SHOOTS

The Belmar Battalion Rifle Team had its Second Annual Shoot on the State range at Sea Girt on last Friday. Except for a few sore shoulders everyone had a fine day's outing. The party was in charge of Mayor Bamford who acted as team captain.

Arthur Birdsall qualified as a sharpshooter with a score of 230 out of 250. The following men qualified as marksmen:

Edward F. Lyman, Jr., 187; Clarence R. Stines, 178; Cook Howland 185; J. Egbert Newman 181; Kenneth Conover 179 Harry R. Cooper lost out by only three fowls, making 172 with 175 necessary to qualify.

The team purchased two special Springfield rifles and expect next year to go after the North Jersey Coast record. They also serve notice on all the "so-called" expert bird shots in Belmar that hereafter their statements of wonderful shooting will be discounted 300 per cent unless they put aside all excuses next year and show up at Sea Girt to prove their ability.

MILLER'S 'CHARLOTTE' WINS YACHT CUP

JAMES G. BARNETT REFUSES RE-ELECTION

Saturday's Race Won By Capt. Joe Redmond's "Jackie" Who Pulls Down Second For The Season's Honors

Captain Clifford Miller's "Charlotte" captured the season's cup offered by the Belmar Yacht Club. He nosed out Captain Joe Redmond's "Jackie" who made a splendid showing after a bad start early in the season. Miller's boat enabled to take down first prize by piling up four straight triumphs at the start of the season. Redmond was one point behind the winner. Third prize was awarded to Captain Walsh's "Camille"

Last Saturday's race which was the final and deciding one of the season, was won by Redmond's "Jackie," while the "Charlotte" was second. "Camille" was third; Captain Clarence Stine's "Vixen" was fourth and Captain Ledyard Avery's

"Ledyard, Jr." fifth. Captain Siemon's "Wiljuan" did not start.

Plans are being made for next season by Commodore Ledyard Avery. James G. Barnett, who refused to be re-elected again for Commodore, held the office for more than thirteen years. He was the real back-bone of the organization. Although he didn't take an active part in competition, yachting was his favorite sport. Barnett's boat was used for the officials.

Barnett is one of the oldest residents of Belmar and at one time one of the largest property owners here. He was a member of the Ocean Beach Association. His winter residence is in Newark.

PLENTY OF BUILDING ACTIVITIES IN BORO

Several New Homes Being Built But There Is Still A House Shortage

As far as building activities are concerned Belmar is faring along the coast, but despite the fact that there is plenty of building going on with several new homes going up and several more promised to be started soon, the housing shortage in Belmar is just as bad as ever and the new building boom has not seemed to help the situation any at all. If you are looking for an all-year-around residence for rent you may just as well keep right on looking and console yourself with the hope of finding something "some day" for at the present time you're chances of renting in Belmar can be counted on one finger and you have to be Johnny-on-the-spot then in order not to miss that chance.

Belmar was hit by the house shortage last year and Old Man Fate has polished us off with another belt of like nature, for family after family are wondering where to go and wondering how long they can stay after they get there, but the real worry of all has been where can you go to. Even the family dog fears he will be disposed some day for some have threatened to renovate Fido's coop into a comfortable two room bungalow.

The housing situation however, promises to see some relief in the near future when more new buildings are promised to be started. The following is just a few of the new homes that have recently been completed here:

The firm of Longman and Pridham are working on the following homes:

They are erecting a home for Martha Shaw of Pittsburgh at 14th avenue and at a cost of $4,000; a residence for Henry Triber, of Hillside at 13th avenue near C street, to cost $7,000 a home for Charles Vaughnum of Camden, at 13th avenue near C street, at a cost of $4,100; a residence for Martin Burns of East Orange, to cost $1,500, being built at 11th avenue and E street; and a garage and bungalow for Christopher Arnold of Maplewood, at 14th avenue and D street.

Contractor Henry Pierce is building a beautiful residence on Fifth avenue, opposite the Inlet Terrace Club.

The Traub Brothers are building a beautiful residence for Mr. Anselwitz, the proprietor of the Wellworth 5 cents to $1.00 store on F street. The home will cost over $16,000.

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO BATHER

William Clement Chozotte of New York City, Overcome While Struggling Ashore Against Heavy Current—Third Drowning of Season

William Clement Chozotte, 53 years old of New York, died of heart failure Wednesday while bathing off 20th avenue. Chozotte was bathing with 10 other men, all employees of the Atlantic Fruit company of New York, in water which was said to be not over breast high when they were caught in a strong undertow.

Joseph Wakely, manager of the fruit company, at whose house on Nineteenth avenue, the party were staying as his guests, noticed the current first and ordered the party to shore.

They had a hard struggle and it was while they were trying to make the beach that Wakely noticed that Chozotte had either fainted or had had a stroke or a cramp. Wakely succeeded in reaching him and managed to get him to shore. Once on the sand two doctors were sent for: Dr. F. V. Thompson and Dr. J. W. Hassler responded and pronounced Chozotte dead of heart failure. County Physician Jamison arrived soon after and concurred in that opinion.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Thomas R. Hardy, where relatives yesterday arranged to have it taken to New York. The funeral will be held Saturday and interment will be at Evergreen cemetery, Brooklyn, in charge of Hardy. Chozotte's address was 1208 Liberty avenue, East New York. He was assistant to Wakely.

Two other men of the party were so exhausted from the struggle to gain the shore that they were taken to Ann May hospital at Spring Lake as a precautionary measure. One of them completely recovered before the hospital was reached and the other was discharged soon after his admission. They were E. P. Sprague and Calvin Kulpepper, both of New York.

The ocean was rather rough Wednesday at high tide and not many people ventured in the water, especially where there were no bathing ropes. The place where the party went in the water at Twentieth avenue, was entirely unprotected by ropes. It is said, however, that the water where the men were bathing was not particularly deep nor rough and that it must have been an extraordinary current to have so frightened the men into coming ashore.

OUT TO EVEN MATTERS WITH BRADLEY BEACH

A lively attraction is booked for tomorrow afternoon on the Worthington field when Belmar and Bradley Beach clash in the second game of a series. The Mystics are out to square up for last Saturday's defeat. After having the game "practically sewed up," leading at the fifth by five runs, the Mystics "blew up" letting the Bradley aggregation annex the game.

One of the largest crowds of the season is looked for tomorrow, as the rivalry between these two outfits is keen. Although Coach Jack McCormack hasn't selected his hurler, it will be either Jim Redmond or Bob Stewart, with Newman on the receiving end.

HURWITZ SURPRISED

A boy was born on Tuesday of this week to Mrs. Harry Hurwitz of F street. The birth took place in New York City. Harry Hurwitz, president of the Belmar Braid Mills, was notified on the telephone, of the new arrival. The Editor was the first to congratulate him.
